University of California, Santa Cruz

Ph.D. in History

Santa Cruz, CA

2019 – 2024

Dissertation Title: Legislating Injustice: Japanese Americans, Congress, and the Wartime Incarceration of Japanese Americans During World War II, 1930 – 1945.

Georgetown University

Masters in Global, International, and Comparative History

Washington, D.C.

2017 – 2019

Pomona College

Bachelors of Arts in History, French

Coursework with Middlebury Program, Université Paris I Panthéon

Claremont, CA

2013 – 2017

Professional Experience

Academic

Oberlin College

Visiting Assistant Professor of History

Oberlin, OH

August 2025 – June 2026

- Taught five courses on United States political history, public history, and immigration studies. I designed course syllabi, lesson plans, and facilitated discussions for classes ranging from 10 to 40 students. Courses included: “Race and the Federal Government,” “A More Perfect Union: American Political History, 1800-2000,” “A History of Disinformation in Politics,” “U.S. Immigration History,” and “Modern US History, from 1877 to the Present.”

UC Santa Cruz

Lecturer

Santa Cruz, CA

June 2024 – June 2025

- Lecturer of class “A More Perfect Union: Race and The Federal Government.” Based on my own syllabus, this class offered students a survey overview of federal government throughout the 20th century with regards to civil rights.
- For Fall 2024 I taught two sections of the Cowell Core Class, a course which introduces undergraduates to college-level writing, and History10A, an introductory level course on U.S. History to 1877. For Winter 2025, I taught History110, an upper-division seminar on the history of the British Colonialism in North America.

University of Victoria

Research Fellow – Past Wrongs, Future Choices

Victoria, British Columbia

January 2023 – August 2026

- From January to April 2023, I was a scholar in resident at the University of Victoria’s Center for Global Studies working for the Past Wrongs, Future Choices Project. As a fellow, I conducted research on media depictions of citizens of Japanese ancestry and their incarceration in various states across the Pacific region during World War II. My research was presented before the Center for Global Studies and will be published in an edited volume with McGill University Press.
- After completing my residency, I served as a scholarly advisor and a researcher for the project, such as identifying and locating important legal historical documents for their website database on the incarceration of Japanese communities in the U.S., Canada, Australia, and Brazil.
- I also served as a consultant for the education spotlight, where I assisted primary and secondary school teachers with designing learning guides.

UC Santa Cruz

Researcher

Santa Cruz, CA

March 2020 – May 2024

- Research assistant for Karen Tei Yamashita for her book Questions 27&28 (Greywolf Press, 2026). As a research assistant, I conducted extensive archival research at various institutions, such as the Library of Congress, the National Archives, and the Bancroft Library. Part of my work requires examining documents in English and Japanese.
- I solicited advice from various experts in the field of Asian American history for further clarification on topics regarding transnational Japanese American studies.

- I contributed research to the foreword authored by Karen Tei Yamashita and Yuki Obayashi for the Penguin Edition of Etsu Sugimoto's A Daughter of a Samurai.

UC Santa Cruz

Teaching Assistant

Santa Cruz, CA

September 2020 – June 2022

Taught Six Courses where I facilitated discussions, graded assignments, and prepared lessons:

- History 10A: United States History to 1877, Fall 2020
- History 58: From Pirates to Refugees: The History of the Modern Mediterranean, Winter 2021
- History 110A: Colonial America, 1500 – 1750, Spring 2021
- History 9: Introduction to Native American History, Fall 2021
- History 122B: Jazz and United States Cultural History, 1945 to the Present, Winter 2022
- History 106B: Asian And Asian American History, Spring 2022

Georgetown University

Translator

Washington, D.C.

August - December 2018

- I translated a book chapter from Eric Laurent's book La face cachée du pétrole from French to English for Professor David Painter.

Public History

Southern California Quarterly

Los Angeles, CA [Remote]

- I provided research for Naomi Ishisaka's March 27, 2022 article on the The Seattle Times's previous reportage on the incarceration of Japanese Americans.

Japanese American National Museum

Scholarly Advisor

Los Angeles, CA

October 2020 – February 2022

- Served as an advisor of the scholarly advisory committee for the upcoming exhibit "Sutra and Bible" curated by Rev. Duncan Williams and Emily Anderson.

- Provided recommendations on the exhibit script, object choices, and research material for the exhibit.
- Interviewed community leaders and managed digital data on the relationship between the Catholic Church and the Japanese American community, and contributed an essay to the exhibit's catalogue.

Smithsonian National Museum of American History

Researcher

Washington, D.C.

June 2017 - June 2018

- Worked as a researcher for the 2017 exhibit 'Righting A Wrong', including reviewing existing literature, identify relevant objects, and providing feedback on the exhibit script.
- Digitized a collection of diaries from the 1930s to the 1960s with extra care to ensure that the book was digitized successfully without damage.
- Transcribed eight oral histories for the museum collections related to the Japanese American experience.
